

MØLLER CENTRE FOR CONTINUING EDUCATION Ltd

SUBSIDIARY COMPANY PUBLICATION SCHEME

PART ONE

INTRODUCTION

1. Legal requirement

- 1.1 Adopting a publication scheme is a requirement of the Freedom of Information Act 2000. This Act promotes greater openness and accountability across the public sector by requiring all 'public authorities' to make information available proactively, through a publication scheme.
- 1.2 'Public authorities' are defined in the Act and include universities, further education colleges and sixth form colleges. Associated companies that are wholly owned by public authorities are also defined as public authorities under the Act. A 'company' exists when a separate corporate entity has been formed.

2. What is a publication scheme?

- 2.1 A publication scheme is a document which describes the information a public authority publishes, or intends to publish. In this context, 'publish' means to make information available, routinely. These descriptions are called 'classes of information'. The scheme is not a list of the actual publications, because this will change as new material is published or existing material revised. It is, however, the public authority's commitment to make available the information described.
- 2.2 A publication scheme must set out the classes, or categories, of information published. It must also make clear how the information described can be accessed and whether or not charges will be made.

- 4.1 The classes of information we publish are described in the second part of the scheme.
- 4.2 Next to each class we have indicated the manner in which the information described will be available. We have also indicated whether charges apply to material in each class. It will be necessary to contact us to find out the exact fee. In general, the supply of printed versions of the web page or of hard copy versions of the publication itself, will incur charges, based on current copying fees and postage. Charges may vary if special circumstances occur.

- 4.4 Please note that a publication scheme relates to 'published' information. Therefore, material covered has already been prepared in a format ready for distribution.

5. What about information not covered by the publication scheme?

- 5.1 From 1 January 2005 you will have the right, under the Freedom of Information Act 2000, to request any information held by a public authority which it has not already made available through its publication scheme.
- 5.2 Requests will have to be made in writing and, in general, public authorities will have 20 working days to respond. They may charge a fee, which will have to be calculated according to Fees Regulations. They will not be required to release information to which an exemption in the Act legitimately applies. However, public authorities may be required to explain to the applicant why they are not releasing information and they may also have to justify this to the Information Commissioner.
